In Memoriam.

Mrs. Rosalie A. Barringer (wife of Gen. Rufus Barringer) died January 15, 1864.

"Oh! snatch'd away in beauty's bloom,
On her shall press no pond'rous tomb;
But on her turf shall roses rear
Their leaves the earliest of the year."

BY EULALIE.

I saw her in her bridal dress,
I heard her speak the marriage vow,
Her cheek aglow with loveliness,
The orange wreath upon her brow.

I saw her lean upon his arm,
With all a woman's trusting grace;
Secure she felt from earthly harm,
His heart was her safe dwelling place.

But ah! this "cruel war" o'ercast
The sunshine of domestic bliss,
Joy's sparkling cup - how oft, alas!
Is dash'd with dregs of bitterness!

Her husband heard the bugle's cry,
And hasted at his country's call,
To nobly stand or bravely die,
For Liberty to rise or fall!

Ah! how her tender heart did pine,
For his proud smile and fond caress,
Love's winning graces all to twine,
And chase the shades of loneliness.

And soon her youthful, fragile form
Drooped like the flower of noontide's ray,
Consumption as the canker-worm
Her vitals seized as lawful prey.

Day after day the hectic glow
Gleamed brightly on her lily cheek;
While christian grace did softly throw
Its radiance o'er her spirit meek.

Her love diffused a potent spell
O'er all who cluster'd round her way;
Emotions pure her breast would swell
That all might own Messiah's sway.

Her days were number'd, well she knew,
And with Faith's eagle piercing eye,
She saw beyond the ether blue
Her mansion in the upper sky.

And thus she gently pass'd away,
Just as aurora ting'd the east,
Her spirit dropped the mortal clay
And joined the blissful marriage feast.

How peaceful is her dreamless bed,
Where silent night-dews gently weep,
And spring's first flowers their odors shed,
And stars their constant vigils keep.

And there kind friends shall often meet,
And with love's garlands wreathe her tomb,
Affection's tears most pure and sweet,
Her memory ever shall perfume.

Sorghum Flour.

We have a sample of this flour, made of the seed of Chinese cane, which may be seen at our office. The planter who sends it to us, had no means of bolting this flour, nor had he taken off the hull of the seed before grinding, the consequence is, that the flour has a pinkish color.

Those who have made a trial of this excellent flour represent it to be an admirable substitute for buckwheat. Made into hoe cake it is a very savory bread. It is likely to come into very general use, if prepared, like wheat flour, by bolting. The price at what it can be offered in market, may be assumed at $15 or $20 per sack. But as an acre of Sorghum yields from 30 to 50 bushels, $10 a sack would be a remunerating price. The production of this grain, the present year, in Georgia, must amount to five millions of bushels. We have this great supply of food to fall back upon, in the event of a deficiency of the common cereals, wheat and maize.

The season for buckwheat cakes comes in next month: with frost. Let the lovers of this bread try the sorghum flour. It is represented as being very similar when prepared as the former is.

As a substitute for coffee, no parched grain or vegetable ordinarily used as substitutes is at all equal to sorghum seed. And what is still more valuable to know, in the present scarcity of sugar, a small quantity of the syrup boiled with ground seed makes the coffee substitute very pleasant and palatable.—Savannah Republican.

A DESERTER KILLED AND ANOTHER WOUNDED.—We are requested to state that on Sunday night last a party discovered a couple of deserters at a camp in the woods in the lower end of Chatham county near Egypt. They hailed them, when the deserters broke and ran. They were fired upon and one killed and the other wounded; the latter made his escape, and told a person who saw him the next morning that he was badly wounded in the thigh, so that he could scarcely walk. They were supposed to be white men, but after the shooting were found to be bright mulattoes, having on army clothes. One of them had previously stated to a person who saw them, that they left Petersburg about two weeks ago, and that they had been conscribed in the army from the upper end of Moore. Their names are not known, but the wounded man said his name was Henry Smith.—Fayetteville Observer.

ANOTHER SPECIMEN.—A correspondent of the Clarion sends that paper the following certificate of a physician, which was brought before the Board of Surgeons at Macon:

To Governor Clark, or any other man, whomsoever it concerns:

This here papur is to sertiphy that I hev examined the barror, skrewtinizingly, and I finde him laburin under the tizzic and sore shin rendering him onable fordeaty, he kaufs alarmingly of nites and is utherwise Rewmatic and sufferin in varyous ways too tejous to diagnor tycate or roominate upon—in witness wharoff i hev set my hand and seel at B——— Augus 4 tecnth, nyteen hunderd and sixty fore.

CONSCRIPT OFFICE,
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 10, 1864.

CIRCULAR No. 49.

I. ENROLLING OFFICERS will proceed at once to a rigid execution of General Orders No. 76 from the Adjt and Inspt Genl's Office, herewith published. The exceptions embraced in Paragraph I, are not construed to include producers detailed under bond for the supply of provisions to the Government. Bonds so given will be returned, if upon examination the parties are pronounced by the "select Board" at Camp Holmes, fit for the field.

II. In pursuance of Paragraph IV of said Genl Orders No. 76 and of Genl Orders No. 12 from the Lieut. General commanding, Enrolling Officers will see that all men recommended for light duty, and not yet assigned, report to Camp Holmes without delay.

III. Enrolling Officers will at once perceive the necessity for a thorough execution of this important order. No excuse will be admitted for any failure to carry it out to the letter, and within the shortest possible time. If additional force be required, Enrolling Officers will, by direction of the Lieut. General commanding, employ detachments from the Reserves, for the use of which, authority is hereby given.

By Order of the Commandant,

Adjt. and Insp. General's Office,
RICHMOND, Oct. 5, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 75.

I. ALL details heretofore granted, under authority of the War Department, to persons between the ages of 18 and 45 years, are revoked; and all such detailed men, together with those within the said ages, who hold furloughs, or temporary exemptions by reason of pending applications for details, will be promptly assembled at the camps of instruction, and appropriately assigned among the armies for service; except that men detailed and now actually employed in manfacturing, providing, collecting and forwarding munitions and other indispensable supplies for the army and navy, or in work indispensable to military operations, will be continued in their present employment until their details shall be revised.

II. The Heads of Departments and Chiefs of Bureaux will, within the next twenty (20) days, forward to the Generals of Reserves, lists of all detailed men in their employment, in the several States, specially distinguishing and certifying those who are experts and those absolntely indispensable for the performance of the above mentioned Government work and business; and all detailed employees not so certified within the prescribed period, will, upon the expiration thereof, be forthwith assigned to the army.

III. All persons called out by this Order, who claim exemption on account of physical disability, will be examined by select medical boards, after their arrival at the camps of instruction.

IV. All men found for light duty, who are unassigned, will at once report to the camps of instruction, under the penalty of being forthwith assigned to the active forces.

Niles' Register Revived.

PROSPECTUS OF

"The Countryman."

NILES' REGISTER, the most useful journal ever issued in America, has been revived in the publication of THE COUNTRYMAN. This journal is a fac simile of its original, in the number and size of its pages, its typography, and all the features which gave value to the standard publication issued by Mr. Niles.

Besides the features of Niles' Register, The Countryman has others which should render it still more attractive—to-wit: a department of elegant literature, rejecting the style of yankee literary journals, and modeling itself after the best English miscellaneous weeklies, but, at the same time being stamped with an independent, Southern tone, original with, and peculiar to itself.

An altogether novel feature with it, is that it is published in the country, on the editor's plantation, nine miles from any town or village, and devotes much attention to agriculture, rural sports, and everything that interests the country gentleman.

THE COUNTRYMAN is a handsome quarto, of sixteen pages, published weekly on the editor's plantation' near Eatonton, Ga., to which all communications should be addressed.

Our terms are $5 for three months, or $20 per annum. Send all remittances by Express.

Kittrell's, September 21st, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. —.

IN PURSUANCE of Circular No. 45 current orders, of Sept. 17th, 1864, County Enrolling Officers are hereby ordered to assemble ALL persons from SEVENTEEN to FIFTY years of age, liable to military service, at their respective county seats for medical examination, excepting only such parties that may have been furnished with certificates of PERMANENT exemption from Medical Examining Board, since April 18th, 1864.

In any case of "permanent exemption" where the Enrolling Officer may have substantial reason for supposing that the disability no longer exists, or that fraud was in any way practiced in the original presentation of the case, he will forthwith cause the party to appear for re-examination.

In the above will be included all parties heretofore examined and assigned to light duty in any and every department of the Government.

Free negroes from 18 to 50 are included in the above call, and the last day of each appointment devoted to their examination.

Enrolling Officers will assemble such portions of their Regimental Districts, as will equalize the number on each of the appointed days. They will also cause this notice to be so thoroughly advertised, that there may be no unnecessary time lost from the various pursuits of those liable, and prompt attendance insured on the days specified.

All persons embraced in this call are absolutely required to be present at the following times and places, or they will be considered as recusant conscripts and treated accordingly.

Examinations in pursuance of Circular 31, Bureau of Conscription, current series, will be instituted same time.

PLANTATION FOR SALE.

I OFFER FOR SALE my Plantation in Rowan county, lying seven miles West of Salisbury, on the road leading to Lincolnton, and within four miles of China Grove Depot, on the N. C. Railroad. It embraces eight hundred and forty-seven acres, about four hundred of which are cleared, the balance in forest, heavily timbered with oak and hickory; has an ordinary dwelling house, good negro houses, and all necessary outbuildings, also, a well of most excellent water.—These lands are fertile and particularly adapted to wheat, oats and clover, and hence might be made a very choice stock farm; corn and fodder have also been grown to advantage. I would also sell with it six or eight good mules, two magnificent brood mares, with colts; also the stock of cattle, sheep, hogs, &c., and all the farming implements, consisting of a wagon, carts, and other farming utensils.

Any one desiring to purchase may examine the premises on application to Mr. Blair H. Brem, on the farm, who will show it, and the lines around it. Terms will be made perfectly easy to the purchaser. Address,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1864.

On the first day of October, as heretofore advertised, the rates of subscription to the Confederate were changed as follows:

Daily—$25 for 6 months
" 15 " 3 months
" 5 " 1 month
Tri-Weekly—$15 for 6 months
" 10 " 3 months
Weekly—10 for 6 months
" 5 " 3 months.

All monies received since the first of October, have been, and will hereafter be credited in accordance with the above rates.

We have been several times asked the question: In what Military District is the Post of Raleigh? We are not certain, but our opinion is that it is in Gen. Whiting's. Gen. Holmes, we understand, is in command of the Reserves and of the Bureau of Conscription, and Major Mallett reports to him on matters of conscription. But as commandant of the Post, Major Mallett, we presume, reports to Gen. Whiting. And if a vacancy were to occur, we presume the new commandant would be assigned on the recommendation of Gen. Whiting.

In reply to another question of our correspondents, we think the rule is express in requiring the appointment of commandant of such a post to be made from some officer retired for disability from active service. On both these points, however, we would suggest to Enquirers, the best information can be had from Gen. Holmes or Major Mallett.

Short Sentences.

We have found out the present writer of the leaders in the Conservative. He is not the shuffling employee we supposed. We are content; and so long as this writer continues, however we may differ in our views, he will receive at our hands the respect due to his character.

Railroads are now an especial object of government vigilance. If all the Presidents and Directors insist on keeping out of the service favorites and unnecessary employees, they may find that they do their friends more harm than good. Gen. Holmes cannot do better than to have a cat's eye on the Railroad rat-holes.

The news from Georgia is all in a muss, but our opinion is, that it is "potter ash goot."

Prices are rising in Missouri, and payments are required in Sterling.

We understand that Gov. Vance leaves to-day for Augusta, Georgia. We do not know for what, but it is said that he and Gov. Brown have agreed to refer the question, which of them is the author of the Georgia platform? to Gov. William Smith, of Virginia, and in case he disagrees, to call in Governors Bonham and Watts, as arbitrators.

It is rumored on the streets, says a Georgia paper, that Forrest has captured Sherman, who was returning from Washington City. If this be true, the army of the Cumberland will be in a bad way—McPherson dead and Sherman captured—with the brains knocked out and the head cut off, what can the body do?

Ah! "thereby hangs a tale."

How the Yankees Lie.

The Washington Chronicle of the 8th, records a reverse to our arms in Georgia at Altoona. According to this account, but one Division of Gen. Hood's army was engaged. We give the statement, but can scarcely credit it. We have not forgotten the Yankee announcement a few days since, that Burbridge had captured the Virginia Saltworks, which was no doubt done for the purpose of securing Lincoln's election. In a few days we shall probably receive Confederate accounts. Until then, we must endure with patience the Yankee reports.

ANOTHER.—The same paper of the 9th, says, the fight below Richmond last Friday, is represented as having resulted in a brilliant Union victory, although it is notorious that we drove the Yankees two miles, captured nine guns, ten caissons, one hundred horses, and three hundred prisoners.

President Davis is said to have telegraphed Forrest that he should expect him to check rail road communication South of Nashville. Forrest is said to have replied that no more trains should run in that section until the President desired it.

Great excitement prevailed at New Orleans on the 26th ult., the Confederates being within five or six miles of the place.

From Eastern North Carolina.

Our correspondent at Kinston, informs us that a company of cavalry, supposed to be about one hundred strong, threatened our front on the 12th instant, at Nobles' farm, 13 miles from Kinston, on the Trent road, causing our pickets to retire from that point for a time. The Yankees then moved down the line in a north-eastern direction via Wise's Fork, until they reached the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad at Rouse's station, where they attempted to capture six wagons, teams, and teamsters (negroes) under the control of Capt. J. J. Robinson, of the Navy department, that were engaged in moving Railroad iron from below the lines to Kinston. They signally failed, however, and had to retreat in confusion, on being assailed by a squad of the 6th N. C. Cavalry, and a detachment of Colonel Whitford's regiment, who were laying in wait for them.

Our correspondent further informs us that the yellow fever still rages with great fury at Newbern. It is reported that from one to two hundred deaths occur daily. The Yankees have moved their quarters out of the city in the direction of Kinston, to avoid the epidemic. Rumor says that two negro regiments have arrived at Newbern—as it is thought they will be better able to resist old yellow jack than the white Yankees.

The Goldsboro' State Journal says on last Friday an expedition from the enemy's gunboats, at Newbern, consisting of about sixty men with two barges—one carrying a twenty-four pound howitzer and the other a twelve pound gun—attacked a portion of Capt. Jone's, Co. G, 67th Regiment, then on picket at the mouth of Swift Creek, driving them back, and the Yankees succeeded in landing.

Capt. Jones, who was with the balance of his company, some few miles distant, went immediately to their assistance, engaged the enemy and drove them to their gunboats, killing Capt. Gordon, U. S. Navy, commanding the expedition, and two men; and wounding two others, with no loss whatever on our side.

The State Journal also says, that about ten days ago, the story goes, two deserters from the 6th N. C. Cavalry were travelling down this road, on their way to the Yankees. Suddenly an unearthly noise, a flash, and one of them found himself on his way to —— the moon. The enemy alarmed by the noise, sent out a squadron of cavalry to see what was the matter, and on arring at the fatal spot, old Beelzebub again poked the fire, a spark ascended causing another terrible roar, as if something had exploded, and four Yankees went up spout, but succeeded in getting down again, only to find themselves scratching in the sand, by the side of a dead horse. Surely the devil's after the Yankees—down about Newbern.

Witcher's Successful Raid in Southwestern Virginia.

A few days ago the telegraph announced a most gallant and successful raid, by a small force of Confederates in Southwestern Virginia. The telegraph told us this gallant band was led by Lieut. Col. Witcher who was the hero of the exploit.

It was decidedly a brilliant affair, and we therefore publish some additional details as we find them in the Richmond Enquirer of last Monday. That paper says:

We have some further details of this sucessful raid, made a few days ago by Lieut. Col. Witcher, in Northwestern Virginia, an official summary of which has already been given. Col. Witcher is now at his headquarters in Greenbrier, having forwarded the spoils of his expedition to a safer locality. He brought out 400 horses and over 200 fine cattle. He captured Bulltown, Jacksonville, Westover, Buchanan and Walkersville. At Westover he destroyed a large amount of all kinds of stores. At Buchanan he captured Major Long, of the 3d (Yankee) Va. cavalry, of Averill's brigade, with 100 men and horses and equipments, complete, besides the quartermaster buildings, containing, 1,000 bushels of shelled oats, and at least $1,000,000 worth of quartermaster, commissary and medical stores, 1,000 stand of small arms and equipments. He also destroyed the telegraph office, and brought away the instruments. He also captured the Bank of Weston, with upwards of $5,000 in all kinds of funds, which will be turned over to the Confederate Government. He captured in all about 300 prisoners, and broke up the home guard organization everywhere he went, and has returned without the loss of a man, but brought out some recruits.

When it is remembered that Lieut. Col. Witcher had nothing but a small battalion, the feat has not been surpassed during the war.

FEMALE CLERKS.—Lt. Col. F. L. Childs, commandant of the N. C. Arsenal, at Fayetteville, has inaugurated the system of employing female clerks to do the work of men detailed for that purpose. Two of the young ladies of Fayetteville are now engaged as clerks at the arsenal.

The News from Georgia.

The news we get from Georgia, is of a character not so satisfactory as is desirable. From a desire by the authorities to keep the enemy as ignorant as possible as to the movements of our army, Gen. Hood has interdicted the forwarding of despatches from his army; hence the Georgia papers abound with all sorts of rumors and reports, reliable and unreliable.—Among those contained in the Georgia papers, received by yesterday's mail, we cull the following:

The Macon Confederate of the 11th, learns from a gentleman who left Rome on Wednesday last, that the city was then in possession of the yankees. The report that Wheeler captured the place on Tuesday was therefore incorrect. Our informant thinks the garrison consisted of about 4000 men—none of whom were negroes. The "capture of Rome" is one of the numerous "canards" which are flying about everywhere.

Per Contra—The Columbus Times says, after the capture of Rome, Wheeler is said to have struck the State road at the Kingston junction, and was tearing it up in the direction of Dalton.

It was rumored in Macon on the 10th, that Forrest had captured Sherman who was returning to his army from Washington City.

A letter to the Augusta Register, from the front, corroborates the statement that our infantry struck the Western and Atlanta Railroad at Big Shanty Oct. 3. Their destruction of the road was complete. The cuts were filled up and embankments leveled.

Kenesaw Mountain has not yet been taken possession of, although we can occupy it at any time we please.

Wheeler is reported to have burned the bridge over Etowah river.

There are said to be but a small amount of supplies in Marietta, the principal depot between Atlanta and Chattanooga being at Cartersville, which is defended by quite a formidable chain of earthworks and stockades, inside of which is cooped up a brigade of Yankees.

It is supposed by those who are posted in military matters, that Stewart will complete the destruction of the railroad as far up as Altoona and perhaps to the Etowah—at least his corps will be allowed to amuse themselves in this way until there is some call for them in the field.

Our scouts report that there is no Yankees between Newman and Atlanta.

It is said that Gen. Hood has prohibited the sending of dispatches beyond his lines for the present.

The Columbus Times says an officer who left Newnan on Saturday morning, reports that Sherman had evacuated Atlanta, after burning the greater portion of the city, and had moved up the State road in the direction of Marietta. He also reports that Hood's army was at or near Big Shanty on Friday morning, and that they would reach the Etowah river by Saturday night. The destruction of the road by our forces is represented to be thorough and complete. The superstructure has been burned, the rails bent and the excavations filled up. In order to use it again, Sherman will have to build a railroad "from the stump."

A correspondent of the Columbus Times says:

French's division, Stewart's corps, is said to have made an unsuccessful attack upon the post of Altoona, and to have been repulsed with some loss. The general tenor of this news has been toned down considerably by subsequent reports, however, and our forces are said to have taken a portion of the outworks; and that they then withdrew under orders. It is not supposed that the division was sent to storm the place, but merely to feel the position and ascertain its strength. This, I think, is the true solution of the move upon Altoona.

When Hood makes up his mind to take it, I imagine there will be little difficulty with the forces he has at command. Altoona Heights, it must be remembered however, is the strongest position between Atlanta and Chattanooga, and it is perhaps heavily garrisoned by portions of the two corps which left Atlanta on Monday week, as reported by prisoners

The most reliable information which can be gathered in relation to Sherman's movements, place three of his corps upon the railroad, at some point near Marietta, with one corps in Atlanta for a garrison.

It will not be many days now, I imagine, before the clash of arms will again resound in the neighborhood of Kennesaw mountains, or at some point above that, where Hood may choose to give battle.

EAST TENNESSEE.—In an engagement with the Yankee cavalry at Rogersville, Tennessee, on Saturday last, we captured upwards of forty prisoners, besides killing and wounding between fifty and sixty.—Affairs in this section are highly encouraging, and under the able management of Gen. Breckinridge, important work, it is anticipated, will soon be accomplished.—The enemy, at last accounts, were at Bull's Gap, and our forces were advancing.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFAIR.—Mr. Smith, a hotel keeper, and Mr. H. C. Utley, both citizens of Concord, Cabarrus county, got into a quarrel last Wednesday morning, which resulted in Smith's shooting Utley, inflicting a wound of which he died in half an hour. Smith was admitted to bail in the sum of seventy five thousand dollars.

IN THE TRANS-MISSISSIPPI.—Things look well. Texas, Arkansas and two-thirds of Missouri are in our possession. The same is true of Mississippi, save the territory embraced by a narrow strip along the river.

Gov. Brown of Georgia is a queer character. With some good traits he has others of a demagogical kind. He prates of tyranny in the Confederate government, but look at the following Order which his Aid-de-Camp served upon one of the Courts in that State:

To the Inferior Court of Worth County:

I am ordered by his Excellency, the Governor, and Commander-in-Chief of the State of Georgia, to say to you, that if you do not, within one week, reconsider your decision in case of (Writ of Habeas Corpus,) J. M. C. Holaman vs. J. J. Williams, Ass't Enrolling Officer of G. M., (in which said Holaman was discharged from arrest, upon the grounds that he had given his bond for appearance at Court, charged with the crime of murder,) that he will turn over all of the Court subject to the Enrolling Officer of the Confederate States.

Your decision will be forwarded to the Governor.

E. T. JONES.
Lt. Col. and Acting Aid-de-Camp,
10th Military Dist. G. M.

This Order of would-be Governor Holden's prime favorite goes many a bowshot beyond anything ever done by the Confederate government, of which the Governor and the would-be have complained so bitterly. The Court indignantly spurned the Order, and the Governor backed out from it.—Fayetteville Observer.

GEN. LEVENTHORPE.—Colonel C. Leventhorpe, who lately commanded the 11th N. C. Regiment, has been appointed by Gov. Vance a Brigadier General in the Home Guard forces of North Carolina. The troops now called out report to him at Goldsboro'.

We look on beauty with a lover's eye, and still neglect the author of the beautiful. Our "devil" says this is no doubt true—he loves Jemima, but don't care a fig for Jemima's father.—Selma Confederate.

The Call to Prayer.

"Charleston saved by prayer," was the emphatic and grateful exclamation of many friends of this beleaguered city months ago, on learning the failure and disappointment of one of the attacks which the foe boastfully and proundly hoped would be the last and successful.

"Charleston saved by prayer" is the motto and word of encouragement which supports and strengthens the faith of many in and out of this city—who daily or oftener present it before the Mercy seat.

Richmond, Petersburg, Macon and others cities, more or less closely threatened, have also been preserved in answer to prayer, as is devoutly believed by many who do not overlook or despise, but gratefully recognize the services and efforts of our incomparable army and their God-fearing chief. In fact, no citizens or soldiers, we venture to say, have a higher notion of the worth of prayer, than our beloved Chief Captain, Lee, and his best lieutenants or assistants, who believe at all in prayer.

Were the choice now offered to General Lee, "take reinforcements equal to your present force, but without prayers continued for you, or go on with the prayers of mothers and wives and sisters and exempted citizens at home"—he would without hesitation say, "give us your prayers without more men, rather than men without prayers."

Richmond, Petersburg and Charleston have severally and repeatedly been exposed apparently to greater dangers than Atlanta was—Macon was fearfully exposed, but Macon was, compared with others, a city of prayer, and Macon has been preserved almost wonderously and under an apparent disaster in the loss of a bridge.

We need not, however, argue the duty or privilege of prayer, for we suppose we write for few readers that do not in some way, in theory at least, if not in practice, recognize prayer.

We beg leave to urge on all, however, who do believe in prayer and show their faith in works and words, the consideration of the special injunctions, and promises and encouragements, with which public and social prayer are presented in Scripture. We have not time or space for a detailed reference to quotations, which any Bible reader can seek and examine—but we ask attention to the fact that apart from the general duty of prayer and the promises made for the consolation of individuals, great and special effects and benefits are promised to and for public and special prayer.

God who reads the heart, and who designs to hear and bless even the prayer of the heart or the half uttered sigh of the publican, or the solitary penitent afraid or ashamed to look up—the Great Hearer of prayer has condescended, in apparent defence to humanity, to offer special rewards and encouragements for public prayer, and for all acts and signs by which men recognize their allegiance to Him in their social and political assemblages as well as individually.

How earnestly and ardently and frequently does David utter forth his longing desires for the Court of God, the House of the living God, the place of God's earthly presence. It seems that no amount of private or social or family privileges and acts of acknowledgment could supply for David the place of the sanctuary and of public worship.

His sense of gratitude no less than of duty to God and of example to men, impelled him to go forth to the sanctuary on all possible occasions.

How it gladdens the hearts of the soldiers when at home on visits of convalescence or recovery, to see and be assured that friends at home are praying for them, as well as taking measures for their comfort and relief.—Charleston Courier.

ADJ'T & INSP'R GEN. OFFICE,
RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 8, 1864.
[General Orders, No 77]

The following will supersede General Orders No. 76, present series, which are hereby revoked.

I. All details, heretofore granted, under authority of the War Department, to persons between the ages of 18 and 45 years, are hereby revoked; and all such detailed men, together with those within the said ages, who hold furloughs or temporary exemptions by reason of pending applications for details, will be promptly assembled at the Camp of Instruction and appropriately assigned among the armies for service; except that men detailed and now actually employed as artizans, mechanics, or persons of scientific skill and those detailed and now engaged in the manufacture, collection and forwarding of indispensable supplies for the army and navy, will be continued in their present employments until their respective details be revised.

II. The Heads of Departments and Chiefs of Bureaux will immediately forward to the Generals of Reserves in the several States, lists of all detailed men in their employment in the said States, certifying in each case of a person between 16 and 45 years, those who are experts and absolutely indispensable for the public service, specifying the employment of each individual; and all detailed employees, who are between the ages of 18 and 45 years, not so certified, will be forthwith assigned to the army. A duplicate of the above lists will, at the same time be furnished to the Adjutant and Inspector General for the action of the Secretary of War.

III. All persons called out by these orders who claim exemption on account of physical disability, will be examined by select Medical Boards at the Camps of Instruction.

IV. All men found fit for light duty, and who are unassigned, will at once report to the camps of instruction, under the penalty of being forthwith assigned to the active forces.

By order: S. COOPER,
A. & I. General.

A SMART ANSWER.—Lord North, who detested music, was asked to subscribe to the ancient concerts. He refused. "But your Lordship's brother, the Bishop of Winchester," has subscribed, urged the applicant. "If I were as deaf as he, I would subscribe too," was the reply.

AUGUSTA, Oct. 14.—A factory of Porcelain, at Knoli, six miles from Augusta, was destroyed by fire last night.

From the North.

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—The Whig has received the N. Y. Herald of the 11th. Sherman telegraphs Halleck from Altoona on the 9th, that he reached Kenesaw on the 9th, just in time to witness from a distance the attack on Altoona. It being anticipated he had ordered Corse from Rome with reinforcements. The attack was met and repulsed—the enemy (rebels) losing two hundred dead and a thousand wounded and prisoners.

Our loss not over one hundred. The enemy captured a small garrison at Big Shanty. Ackworth has been burned and 7 miles of Railroad.—We have abundant of provisions at Altoona and Atlanta. Hood has moved back to Dallas, Van Wert watching him in case he tries to reach Kingston or Rome. Atlanta perfectly secure.

Sheridan is at Woodstock and has destroyed everything in the way of provisions.

Grant had returned from Washington. Gold 198½.

[The above dispatch, be it remembered, is based on accounts in the New York Herald. The reader will understand how little reliance is to be placed in its statements.]—EDS. CONFEDERATE.

TWO ONE LEGGED COMMANDERS.—It is observed by those curious in coincidences, that both the commanders in-chief of the confronting armies at Atlanta, Hood and Sherman, have left a leg on the battle field. Gen. Sherman has, however, physically an advantage over his opponent in the use of both his arms, while Gen. Hood has only a stump in the place of one of his. General Sherman lost his leg in the repulse from Port Hudson, General Hood in the victory at Chickamauga.

The only thing that spoils the coincidence is, that W. T. Sherman, the Yankee General at Atlanta, never lost a leg, while Gen. Hood never lost an arm, though he has a wounded one. T. W. Sherman, a Brigadier General under Banks, lost a leg in May, 1863, at Port Hudson.—Richmond Whig.

AN EXAMPLE WORTHY OF IMITATION.—Wm. H. Willard, one of the proprietors of the Saluda Factory, has, during the war, supplied the employees and operatives of his cotton and woolen factories in Orange and Alamance counties, with bacon, lard and butter, at 50 cents per pound; meal at 5, and flour at 10 cents per pound; and shoes at $5 per pair; and during the past year, at his own expense, has erected a chapel for the moral and spiritual improvement of his people.

LOST FOREVER.—An old paper gives the following item, which we hope may operate as a caution to others to guard against similar losses:

"Lost, the other day, somewhere between sunrise and sunset, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered, for they are gone forever."

Albert Gunn was recently discharged for making false entries in the Quartermaster's Department at Washington city. His dismissal reads thus: "A. Gunn discharged for making a false report."

A pretty sharp retort is that recently made by a young, pretty girl at Oshkosh, Wis., who attended a ball dressed in short skirts and pants. She was the only one present in the mode. The other ladies were shocked very much! They regarded her short skirts as immodest; but she quietly remarked, that if they would pull up their dresses about their necks as they ought to be, their skirts would be as short as hers.

An unfortunate editor in a neighboring State, thus addresses his delinquent patrons:

Friends we are almost penniless; Job's turkey was a millionaire compared with our present depressed treasury. To-day, if the price of salt was two cents a barrelful, we could not buy enough to pickle a jaybird.

A shrewd little fellow, who had begun to read Latin, astonished his master by the following treatment: Vir, a man; gin, a trap,—Virgin, a man trap."

Post Quartermaster's Office C. S. A.
Raleigh, Oct. 14th, 1864.

OFFICERS WHO HAVE STORES TO TURN over to this Department for transportation, are hereby notified that under orders from General A. R. Lawton, Quartermaster General C. S. A., in his circular of Sept. 15th, 1864, instead of receipting as heretofore for the stores thus turned over, I will furnish them with Railroad receipts on Bills of Lading. Duplicate invoices of the Stores to be transported must accompany all applications for transportation.
Serg't Douglas Bell, Railroad Transportation Agent, will receive the Stores and invoices and return Railroad receipts for the same.
